“ Ashleigh..you were at my house just a few days before God took you to be his angel..you looked so pretty, which I have always thought you were beautiful both inside and out..you were going to come help me do some things around the house.. I sure do wish you had called that day.. I would have came to get you.. I will never forget you sweet girl..

“ For the brief period of time I knew you, you always seemed to be quite caring and a bit more wise than people might have picked up on. I wish you all the best in your transition to a better place. It's been a while since we've talked last, but I am extremely upset to hear of your passing. You and yours will be in my thoughts. One of the last things you messaged me on facebook was, "God wasn't ready for you to leave this earth. He has plans for you" Well I believe that God has plans for you, as well, in his kingdom. May you find absolute peace and serenity. I wish all the immediately bereaved and otherwise the best in this heart breaking situation.

“ Julie, words can never express how much we sincerely feel the pain that you and your family bear through this trying, difficult time. Your losses have been more than I know you think you can bear except I know that you have the Love of Our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ in your heart and in your lives. We also feel the loss that your mother Shelby feels as I know my mother grieved over the death of her grandchild,our daughter, Merry Hope. May God wrap his arms around you and may He give you the comfort and strength I know you will need in the days, weeks, and years to come. The Gowans
