

Barbara Ann Cook

December 14, 1935 - August 10, 2021

Spartanburg, SC – Barbara Ann Cook passed away on August 10, 2021, at Spartanburg Medical Center. Barbara was the daughter of the late George and Edith Walker Guest and the loving wife of the late Luther T. Cook.

Barbara was born in Bridgeport, CT to a family of 33rd degree masons and her grandfather was the Captain of Police in Bridgeport. Barbara was also very proud of her Scottish heritage. She was known to everyone as “Mimi” and loved her family and friends very much. Barbara was very outgoing, funny, and loving – those around her always seemed to be drawn to her. Besides being with her family, Barbara loved to watch old movies, traveling, any animal, and was known to have a great sense of humor. She could be described as a spectacular individual and the coolest grandma. Memories of Barbara will be cherished for many years to come, and she will be missed dearly.

Barbara is survived by her daughter, Edith Cook as well as her twin daughters, Pamela Carol and Linda Ruth; her grandchildren Andrew Cook and Heather Cook; and her loving dog and best friend, Buddy.

She is preceded in death by her brother, James W. Guest.
