“ Rest In Peace with Grandma now Pap! I'll carry your love with me always. In ever tomato I eat, I've already found peace in the lightening. You and Grandma taught me so much of the wisdom I'll carry with me forever, and hopefully one day with Alice. Hopefully next spring my garden will be ready, with you guiding my black thumb, from above. Thank you for the countless hours you spent, teaching me patience and the beauty in stillness. Thank you both, for providing me with unconditional love, even if it was marriage that at one time made us family, you let me learn it was never blood, but love. That love, a seed planted, now blooms. May you and Grandma spend enernity in bliss, in this life I was blessed with your love, ornery and all!

“ Missing you daddy. I'm blessed to have you in my life for my 64 years. You are the first man I loved and the man that carried me through my ups and downs as I grew. Today I want you to know that if it wasn't for you and mom I wouldn't have the life I do. My life with Mike. A man that always puts me first and shows me his love as you did with/for mom. Rest In Peace Love you always. Your little girl. Kathy
