James Charles "Chuck" Doster, of Spartanburg South Carolina, crossed over to join our Lord Jesus Christ on Friday, August 6th, 2021 after conceding the battle with throat cancer.

Chuck was born on July 27th, 1955 in Columbia, South Carolina. There is a PBS documentary about the project. He produced and managed The Calhouns among other musical projects. These are just a few of his accomplishments. He lived life.

From childhood throughout his life, he has been creative particularly drawn to music and writing lyrics but on his fiftieth birthday was called to write poetry until his death. You can find his latest writings on his Doc Huckster Facebook page. They are for all. He loved intensely each and every person in his life, and respected their autonomy and individuality. He made each person better for knowing him.

“ I just came across this obituary. I am so sorry for your loss. I knew Chuck from the Navy. We were stationed together in Lemoore, Calif. He was a true friend. He could always make me laugh. He was so easy to be around. I have often wondered what happened to him and not surprised about his accomplishments- poetry and songs. He was a truly special person and will always hold a special place in my heart. Although he passed years ago, I am feeling the sorrow today. Always, Penny
