October 13, 1968 - May 28, 2016

OBITUARY: Mark Edward Sisk

Spartanburg, SC: Mark Edward Sisk, 47 passed away on Saturday, May 28, 2016 at Spartanburg Regional Medical Center. He was the son of Katherine (Philbrick) and the late Edward H Sisk.

A native of Concord, New Hampshire, Mark was known as a 'Gentle Giant' by many not only for his size but his enormous spirit as well. He graduated from Appalachian State University and had many adventures from an early age in playing hockey, baseball, tennis, and his guitar. His other talents were exhibited in his vocation as an aviation mechanic and airplane scale modeler, both inspired by his incredible love of airplanes after watching the Blue Angels at age 2. His intellect, strength, independence, and his ability to be a "Best Friend" were the attributes that made Mark the man he was, especially to his beloved Jack Russell, 'Olive'.

Left to cherish the memories besides his Mother are a brother, Cole L. Sisk; a sister, Leah M. Sisk; two nieces: Matrayia and Kyerstein Stanford, many family members and friends in both New Hampshire and North Carolina.

“ Kay, I don't have an address for you, but I want you to know that Larry and I have loved Mark for years and are so saddened by his passing. We enjoyed his company at our table for many holiday as well as other meals and at our home on other occasions when Rodney was in town. He was such good company, and we always looked forward to his visits. He was truly a dear friend, roommate and brother to Rodney, and we always loved hearing about his jobs, especially the ones at the airport. One of my favorite memories is of his getting Rodney to play hockey with him on that crazy men's league while they were in college! He was so loved and will be missed so much. We grieve with you but hope that these memories will comfort you and let you know that his spirit lives on in all of us. God's peace,

Dear Kay and family: I am very saddened to hear of Mark's passing. I got to know and become very fond of Mark during my employment at the Everett Arena in Concord. As you know The game of hockey and skating was a big part of his life so I got to see him often. Please accept my condolences to you all.

Mark and I used to have discussions about WWII airplanes and swap models back when we were kids. He always spoke intelligently, never will forget that about him.

Dear Kay, Cole, and Leah,

Days do not pass by when I do not think of or mention Mark in some context either in a gathering of friends or in my classroom as I teach my students about what it is to be an "undefinable" person in this world. Mark was truly beyond basic definitions of "friend", "brother", "companion", "conspirator", "intellectual", "sportsman", "confidante", and "defender" to me.

My hope is that the joyous moments of his deep and abiding laughter will spring up in your hearts when you need it as it does for me. What can we say in the end of a man whose love and heart changed the lives of friends and family but that his big, wonderful shadow still looms large over our hearts and minds. Know that my thoughts and prayers of grace and peace flow out from above to you all.

Super sorry. Now he is the light on the water we can't touch but is always there.

Though I couldn't pay much more than minimum wage, Mark asked for a job not for the money but for his love of modeling...taking partial pay in inventory he could work on while at work at my hobby store. He was the laughter on the sound track of our videos of flying out at Valle Crucis or teaching a young modeler tricks of the trade. I was shocked to learn he had passed. And saddened.
