“ I sure am going to miss my Uncle Doug. I'm grateful for the opportunity to visit and spend some time with him just a few weeks before he went to heaven. Some of my fondest memories of him were laughing at his timely jokes that you would miss if you weren't paying attention, watching him make the sweetest peach ice cream, eating the best garden fresh tomato sandwiches, slicing and sharing watermelons on the porch, drinking gallons of sweet tea (and showing me the secret ingredient) and riding along with him to The Junction Restaurant in Landrum, South Carolina for fried green tomatoes. My Uncle Doug was a stand up man who did all he could to provide for his family and it was evident he loved his wife and family. My South Carolina trips won't ever be the same but I know one day I'll be enjoying all these things with him again in a heavenly setting. Sending all my love to my Aunt Pat, Cousin Sherri, and her two sons along with the rest of my southern family. Xoxo I love you, Uncle Doug! Im sure the Big Man upstairs will give you a seat at the head of the table.

“ Though separated by thousands of miles, over the years Doug and family have always been in the hearts and minds of my Mom and Dad and me. From childhood times of go-carts and racing to the 2017 visit where Dad and I enjoyed the conversation with Pat and Doug while eating the best tomatoes ever from the garden out back. Great favorable memories and blessings! May the Goodness of God reunite us all in Uplands unbounded.
