I don't know how many people reading this can truly understand what a genuine and real person Micheal was,I and my son in law had the privilege of working with Michael and Donny for 2 years, sometimes they argued, sometimes they got a long,but you always knew somehow that Donny loved him and was proud of him.I can say without a doubt that every single person at that shop thought of him as either the son they didn't have or an equal. I'll never forget the day Mikey burned up a camera,I still have that picture on my phone lol,he was as good as they come and I sincerely hope that his mom and dad and everyone else can hold his memory in they're hearts forever and somehow find some peace in this awful tragedy

“ I love and miss you so much son. Your smile its like you knew exactly what to say to anyone. You would give anyone anything you had if you thought it would make them happy. I will always remember the dove field and the day Mr Green jeans got us with the book bag you had when you forgot all the extra shells. He didn't belive you forgot but he also didn't know you. And not to mention the birds weren't even flying anyhow but if they were you said I got you dad. You knew I was gonna shoot up all my shells and be borrowing yours is what it was. Shhhh. It don't matter the ticket got paid anyhow lol...just one of the many. I love you son please let us know your smiling cause thats all I wanna know is that your happy for eternity
