

Randi Marie Oliver Dodd

September 30, 1981 - February 7, 2026

Randi Marie Oliver Dodd, 44, passed away on February 7th, 2026, after a loving life full of bright smiles and infectious laughter.

Randi was born September 30, 1981. Surviving are her parents, Randall and Barbara Eanes Oliver (Everyones Nana and Papa).

Beyond everything else, Randi was an unwavering and loving mother to a son and a daughter; doing anything and everything possible to make sure her children had everything they needed. Her children are Tyler Andrew Dodd and Addison Grace Dodd (Addie) of the home.

Her greatest achievement were her children, and she let everyone around her know - From pictures on her salon booths walls, to constant remarks on their accomplishments, it was unmistakable who she would give the world for.

She also leaves behind her sister, Chelsea Thompson (Nate). She also loved being "Aunt Tina" to her nieces, Lizzie Jane and Elliana Jordan Thompson.

She also departs from a wide circle of extended family that she held dear to her heart.

It was a challenge to be sad around Randi. She had a laugh that always filled the room, and a smile that always infected any frown. If you ever had a problem, she was the one you could trust to give good advice, or simply lend an ear to vent your struggles. She was also an artist at heart who found joy in color and design.

Randi was an accomplished and dedicated Hair Stylist, some saying she had the technical skills and intricacies of no other. As a Hair Stylist, she formed lifelong friendships with clients who became like family over 20 years. She was truly gifted in every corner of her craft.

She was a daughter, mother, sister, Tina, friend and our anchor in any storm, and most of all: someone who has changed our lives forever. Her love and memory will be a cherished treasure that we all carry eternally. Randi will be deeply missed.

A private memorial was held on Monday, February 16th, 2026 at Living Waters Funeral Home in Lyman.

“ I went to the salon today for my 2:00 appointment with Randi and instead, I have a broken heart. She passed four days after my last haircut with her and I did not know. I would have gone to her funeral. Of course, I would have cried my eyes out like I did today on my way back to my office. Randi was pure brightness and goodness. She truly sought to know you and was not superficial at all. She had a fantastic sense of humor. She loved her two kids so dang much! Kiddos - just know that she worshiped you two and do good in life for her because she raised you right. I feel like I know you two well from all of our conversations. RIP friend!

“ The picture I posted is what grew from Randi's match making skills. She was a determined woman. We literally owe our renewed faith in people to her!!! I pray she had a peaceful journey into the arms of Jesus. I am heartbroken that we lost touch over time. I would have loved for her to see us now. We will continue to pray for your family.

“ My heart is broken. I wish I had the words to take all your pain away, I don't. But I'm gonna cover each one of you in prayers to Our Heavenly Father for comfort and peace this time.

I have been going to Randi for 16 years when I found out that she had passed I was devastated. I'm so unhappy about not being there for her memorial I was sick in the hospitals. I love her. I'm an ordain minister. I bury and marry many people, but understand this. Randi was a precious gift from God to all of us.

I met Randi about 9 or 10 years ago. My hairdresser had moved out of town and I had no idea who I was going to go to. I Googled the top 5 hair salons in Spartanburg. Randi's location was the closest. I called and the first person was booked but she said she would ask the others. Randi was the one who called and got me right in. She was SO AMAZING. She made me feel right at home and was very knowledgeable about color. Over the years we often talked about her being the one who answered my prayer because I was picky when it came to my color.

Randi was the funniest, sweetest, caring, loving, and let me not forget, therapeutic individual I've ever known. She could pick your spirits up and make your problems feel so much lighter. Her smiles and her hugs were genuine!!! She loved with her whole heart and soul.

When I met Addie and Tyler, I knew instantly they were the love of her life. And then there was Lizzie Jane who was her 3rd child (to hear Randi talk about her). And then, there came Elliana!!! Another one for Randi to love as her own. I LOVED sitting back and listening to Randi talk about the family get-togethers with her Mom and Dad and all the family. She always said her sister and her brother-in-law was SO FUNNY and fun to be with. I was glad I finally got to meet her sister and two nieces one time when I was there to get my hair done.

Randi was so proud of her family!

I also want to say that I've read tens of hundreds of obituaries over the years but I've NEVER read one more meaningful than Randi's. It was straight from the heart and true to the CORE, just who Randi was. I will forever remember Randi and her hugs. I think of her everyday, seriously.

*I've prayed daily for ALL her family and I will continue to do so. To Addie and Tyler, sister, nieces, Mom and Dad, keep in mind. ALL WHO KNEW RANDI, LOVED HER!
Rest In Peace, dear friend!*

*Sincerely,
Dianne and Scott Glover*
