“ Tammy & I have grown up together since we were 6. Our families were two of the first to buy homes in the New Victor Heights community when it was being built. Our parents became instant friends and we spent a lot of time together. I've watched as she lost her Mom, Dad & Tim but she never lost faith or fight. She was an inspiration. The park across the street from her house was our favorite. Tammy has a lot of friends and family who will miss her so much. Continuing prayers for her family.

“ Tammy is my beautiful hero. She battled the beast for 8 years and did it with grace, poise, humility, laughter, and hope. During Tammy's many treatments and trips to Atlanta, she continued to walk in the door each morning and head to her office. There were so many times that Tammy's friends would encourage her to leave work and go home to rest. She stayed. I marveled at Tammy's strength and determination throughout her illness. It wasn't unusual to hear laughter emanating from her office whenever I walked by.

I miss her desperately but rejoice that the battle is over for her. Cancer might have affected her body but her spirit lives on forever. Most of all, I will remember Tammy's laugh instead of tears.

“ I met Tammy at Creform around 1985 and we bonded over our love of Gamecock football. We used to travel to the games in Columbia together and always had a ball. We quit working together in 2009 but our friendship never stopped. She had a dry sense of humor and she was so funny. I have spent a lot of time with her the past 7-8 years, usually watching tv because she didn't feel like going any where. She was a true fighter and she never wanted to give up and let cancer win. She always told me she fought so hard because she didn't want to leave her children. The last chemo she took was called "Red Devil" but she told me she was changing the name to "Jesus Juice." I was with her on Saturday the 9th and we were on her porch waiting for an ambulance to come take her to hospital. She told me that the day she got baptized was the best day of her life and she has felt so at peace ever since. Her body was tired...but she is not tired any more. She is running the streets of gold and she is rejoicing with Jesus.

Tammy...my friend...I will miss you and our Sunday afternoons together. But I will see you again some sweet day!
