“ Walter was my brother in law. He was always nice to me and I enjoyed his company greatly. This summer, sick as he was he still teased me. I went and bought him a milkshake then spilled a third of it getting out of my car. The next day I got him another one. He had said nothing about me spilling the first one. However, he remembered. When given the second one he said, "Wow. You didn't even spill this one." He was loved and will be missed. He fought long and hard and suffered greatly at the end. I believe he is at peace and in a better place. He loved the Lord and wrote hymns of praise. I believe the Lord received another angel with his passing.
